IRIS

When the sun shines through your iris blooms you will see in many of them worlds of jewels, like millions of tiny diamonds set in transparent leaf gold.

Each iris season brings with it new and better creations. One of the greatest thrills of life is to grow a new iris like no one else has ever grown.

We wish to thank our many friends for their patronage during the past, and hope that we may be of service in the future. Our aim is to send only strong, healthy plants and to meet all reasonable competition.

Many of the new varieties are wonderful creations, masterpieces of the highest type, and we commend them to your attention.

In obtaining our collection, we have endeavored to select the most attractive iris from hundreds of fine kinds, and feel sure our selection affords a good range of color from which our patrons can secure a satisfactory collection with which to beautify their home gardens and grounds. With every order we send out we will send a folder, "About Iris," which gives some helpful hints about the care and propagation of Iris, and also about combating some of the pests which bother us by destroying much of what we work very hard to grow. We will be glad to send our price list to any address on request.

THE NEW IRIS SOUTHERN PACIFIC

From its first appearance in our gardens, this beautiful iris has been a strong, and very vigorous growing plant, with leaves tall, smooth and strong, and with tall strong stems well branched. The huge blooms are well placed, and many reach a spread of nine inches. Both standards and falls are inclined to curve and have a slight ruffle around the edges. The standards have a strong midrib and stand straight and almost closed. The falls are semi-flaring, drooping enough at the outer edges to give the bloom a very artistic appearance. Texture firm. Color, a soft shade of rich lavender blue and has a delicate pinkish glow throughout under certain lights, with a light area through the center, and the falls are penciled, darker through the haft. The beard is orange at the base, shading to lighter at the outer end. Blooms open two to four at a time on a stem. The plants have withstood freezing weather, wind and rain storms as well or better than other large iris under same conditions. Blooming period around thirty days. This is a gracious addition to the iris family, and gives a full measure of beauty and size and a soft pleasing pacific tone.

32 inches. Late bloomer.

THE NEW IRIS SO BIG TEXAS

This lovely Iris is a soft lavender blue, strong grower, large well-formed blooms, and is similar to Southern Pacific, but many think it a better iris. It has good foliage and strong stems and the huge blooms are well placed.

The standards are almost closed and falls are semi flaring and slightly curved which give the blooms an artistic appearance.

Just another lovely addition to the large lavender blue kind.

Working among your flowers at least a little each day, not enough to tire but just enough for good exercise and sunshine, is a splendid way to maintain robust health, and among your flowers you should have a lot of iris. They are easy to grow, and are one of the most satisfactory flowers.

Iris time again brings joy to all flower lovers and we all like to get out our old hoes and dig in the good earth. We presume that you are a confirmed gardener and that you want the best of everything to beautify your home and garden, and with that in view we have selected for our sales stock the best and most attractive iris we could find among hundreds of fine varieties.

There is nothing a gardener loves more than his or her own flowers and we know that every iris lover gets more out of life than many other hobby gardeners, so we want you to look over this list carefully and see if there isn't something therein that you can use to further beautify your garden and home.

In this list you will find colors ranging from the deep purple WINNESHIEK to the lovely light blue GREAT LAKES, and from the golden yellow GOLDEN HIND to the soft creamy white ARCTIC, and from the coppery bronze GRAND CANYON, to the soft tan or buff FARWEST.

There are colors and shades to suit every one's taste and also prices to suit the pocket book, and the beauty of the flower is not regulated by the price of the plant, for many of the more moderately priced iris are as beautiful as many of the more expensive ones,

We do not attempt to compete with expensive catalogs for our price list is plain, but we try to offer plants and prices that compare favorably with those of other growers. We will meet all reasonable competition in prices.

We have arranged some very attractive collection bargains for you that will save you money and at the same time give you some fine iris for your garden.

In making up your order please confine your selection as outlined by our group arrangement.

SHIPPING TIME

Iris may be reset in June, July, August or September. We recommend, however, that orders be sent as early as possible as it is a decided advantage to get the plants in early so that they will be well established by winter and will be more sure to give satisfactory blooms the following season. We pack our iris in excelsior and ship only strong vigorous plants and consider them out of our control after the shipment is delivered to the transportation agency here, but will be glad to be advised if they do not reach you in good condition. However, we cannot guarantee any iris to live or grow under conditions over which we have no control.

TERMS

Cash to accompany all orders; checks, money orders, or currency will be acceptable, but we recommend that all letters containing currency be registered. All orders must be for one dollar or over, and all orders are received subject to prior sale or to conditions and circumstances existing when orders are received. We ship by parcel post. We pay postal charges to all points within the United States.

Please write or print your name and address plainly.

P.S. Should you find an extra included in your order, don't be surprised. Just plant it and watch it bloom.

THE AMERICAN IRIS SOCIETY

This splendid society is of the greatest interest to its many members and we heartily recommend it to any who have not yet joined.

The object of the organization is to encourage the growing and propagation of iris and it publishes each year four bulletins which gives much valuable information along these lines.

It has an established scale by which new introductions are rated and appoints judges to rate each new iris according to its merits.

Information regarding the society and the requirements for obtaining membership may be obtained from Mr. Howard R. Watkins, 821 Washington Loan and Trust Building, Washington D. C.
